

IFWTWA Celebrates Our First Conference at Sea from January 3 – 10, 2009

Associate Members are invited to join the festivities as we sail up the west coast of Mexico on Holland America's MS Oosterdam. We depart San Diego, CA in the late afternoon of January 3 and stop at Cabo San Lucas, Mazatlan and Puerto Vallarta, where we are planning exciting excursions.

Associate Members and their guest are welcome to take part in several Professional Development seminars during our two days at sea. We are working on the details.

Open to all media and hospitality professionals, including writers, photographers, public relations, publicists, and marketing personnel. Non-members who sign up and pay for this conference by November are eligible for a full ONE-YEAR MEMBERSHIP with all benefits, included in the listed price.

Getting There

For those who arrive by air, a cab to the port costs $15 to $25. Holland America's contracted air fares are not better than those found on the internet. Therefore, we encourage you to secure your own air. For those driving or arriving by train, we will provide directions to the Port of San Diego.

FEES (Please submit your on-line application with your registration).

Your credit card will be charged the amount indicated and your cabin reserved. Advise us if you wish us to try to line up a cabin mate for you. If we do, we will refund any paid single supplement.

There will be a minimum non-refundable cancellation charge of $75. Once Holland America provides us with the date schedule for cancellations and insurance, we will advise you.

At this point, our cut off date for reservations is November 10. This may be extended, but cabins are on a first come, first serve basis. If the date is extended, we will advise you.

If you would like to provide gifts for goodie bags or raffle prizes, please advise Maralyn Hill at maralyn@ifwtwa.org or Andrea Rademan at andrea@ifwtwa.org

We have been working over a year to pull this fantastic program together.
